SONEMA ANNOUNCES ITS PARTICIPATION AT IDC CIO SUMMIT CASABLANCA 2015

Monaco, April 21st 2015 – Sonema SAM, a worldwide VSAT integrator and telecommunications service provider, today announced it is exhibiting and participation at IDC CIO Summit 2015 in Casablanca, on April 29th and 30th 2015.

The CIO Summit is a unique opportunity for CIOs and ICT professionals to gather to gain insight from industry experts as well as real-world experience from CIOs on critical business and technology issues. The event represents the largest social network of CIOs, IT thought leaders, and vendors in North Africa, and promises to explore the pivotal role of the CIO in the new business world of technology transformation.

Sonema will present its telecommunications solutions for the banking industry, and services for mining, Oil & Gas and other industries. It will also showcase its newest solutions for high resiliency terrestrial communications, videoconferencing, and much more.

“With another new era of computing already on the horizon, the focus of CIOs across the region is beginning to shift to the new wave of disruptive technologies that are heading their way. The third Platform technologies of cloud, big data, mobility, and social are already firmly entrenched in the minds of CIOs, and we now expect to see an explosion of innovation and value creation built on these foundations. We are delighted to have Sonema partner with us at the IDC Francophone CIO Summit 2015 to share the latest trends on Telecommunication technology,” said Ouafa Kathir, Country Manager IDC North and French Africa.

“We look forward to exhibiting at IDC CIO Summit 2015, and having the opportunity of meeting attendees and discussing their telecommunications needs wherever they are on the globe,” said Stefano Poggi, head of sales at Sonema.
